The song spans a wide vocal range in its original form, but for an instrumental cover, arrangers often adapt it to suit the saxophone's tessitura.

- Key and Tonality: Most covers are arranged in the original key of F major or its relative minors, but some opt for transpositions (like G major or E-flat major) to accommodate the performer's comfort or to evoke different emotional colors.

- Piano or Guitar Accompaniment: Providing harmonic support with chordal voicings that complement the saxophone line.
- Full Band or Orchestra: For more elaborate arrangements, incorporating strings, percussion, and other wind instruments.

- Articulation: Legato phrasing is crucial for maintaining the song's flowing, singing quality. Sometimes, performers incorporate subtle accents or staccatos for expressive purposes.
- Range Utilization: Navigating the high notes smoothly and confidently is vital, especially in the song's climactic sections.
